The aim of this puzzle is to use all the pieces provided to fill in two jigsaws. One piece was already positioned in each grid. The unusual letter combinations and the title provide hints that the pieces can be rearranged to provide the names of birds and of types of car.

However, when you fill the grids in some letters remain missing (highlighted in black above). When read in row order, these letters spell out WRENAULT, a car a bird would drive and a punny intersection between the two groups.
